FIRST FRIDAY ART WALK

Experience Art in downtown Hanover

November 6th, 2026 | 5pm - 8pm
Organized & Hosted By: Little Fox Coffee & Books
Sponsored by: Main Street Hanover

Participating Businesses:

- Church of Satire will be hosting Stormi Vaughn Morgan, a dynamic artist whose work delves into the realms of self, spirituality, and the vastness of space and sky. Often incorporating elements of surrealism, Stormi's art is a vibrant exploration of color, form, and emotion. Their use of bold, sometimes unconventional color choices brings an element of surprise to their pieces, inviting the viewer to step into a world where the boundaries of personal experience and the infinite cosmos converge.
- Debbie J's is hosting Milly Adel, a self-taught artist from Pennsylvania and the creator of Art by Milly Adel. What started as a hobby just over a year ago has grown into a passion for creating one-of-a-kind artwork. Inspired by nature and everyday beauty, she hopes her paintings bring joy, spark memories, and find a special place in someone's home.
- Hanover Area Arts Guild will be holding "The Hanover Area Arts Guild's 58th Annual Fall Show." All new work by Arts Guild members is on display and for sale November 3 through December 31. An independent judge selects award winners in this exhibit. This is one of downtown Hanover's oldest ongoing events, highlighting the many visual art talents found in Hanover and the surrounding areas.
- Kosmos Music is hosting Don Bergman. They have been drawing and creating art since kindergarten, developing a bold abstract style influenced by legendary artists including Basquiat, Picasso, Pollock, and Matisse. Working primarily in acrylics, they create energetic, expressive pieces ranging from pop-culture icons and contemporary abstracts to custom-requested artwork, bringing their own color, movement, and personality to every canvas.
- Little Fox Coffee & Books is hosting artist Brian Neely. Brian Neely is a photographer with a sensitive eye for the details that make the exotic feel familiar, and the familiar feel personal. The partner of a retired diplomat he has had the good fortune to live and travel around the world.
- Sacred Heart Tattoos is featuring Crystal Hartlaub, a local artist working in watercolor, acrylic, and pour painting. Her work explores the meeting point of abstraction and nature, where control gives way to flow, and texture becomes memory. Each piece is a balance of intention and chance. Originals and prints available.
- The Serpent's Key will be is featuring artists Kerry Mairie & Luisa Carella. Kerry's art entwines with my spirituality and the stories that inspire me. I am a polytheist painting from a modern Pagan world view. Kerry's work celebrates mythology, folklore, the cycles of the moon and sun, the natural world, and the deepest secrets of magic. Her goal is to inspire wonder and curiosity. Luisa loves all things creative; from painting in acrylics, and throwing pottery on the wheel, to singing and dancing. She loves painting faces and using familiarity from her life as inspiration for her art.
- Warehouse Gourmet is hosting Sharon Benner, a local studio and Plein Air artist who creates landscape paintings filled with natural light and color. Her impressionistic paintings celebrate the beauty of nature in the Hanover and Gettysburg area.

FIRST FRIDAY ART WALK

Experience Art in downtown Hanover

The First Friday Art Walk is free and open to the public. No tickets are required—just come downtown and enjoy an evening filled with art, creativity, and community spirit. For more information about First Friday Art Walk in Hanover, email Little Fox Coffee & Books at hello@littlefoxbooks.co.

About Little Fox Coffee & Books

Set in a 1847 church, Little Fox Coffee & Books is a cozy bookshop that offers espresso drinks, matcha, and teas with housemade syrups. Add a gluten-free waffle, a vegan toastie, or a local sourdough chocolate chip bagel. Browse a curated collection of new releases with a focus on BIPOC and queer books or go treasure hunting through our used books in the loft. Open late Wednesday through Saturday, check the calendar for their community-driven events and book clubs!

